

TN asks Centre to expedite release of pending GST compensation

Chennai, Aug 28: The Tamil Nadu government on Thursday urged the Centre to expedite release of Rs 12,258.94 crore, which is its Goods and Services Tax (GST) arrears from the latter since 2018-19 and the outstanding Integrated GST of Rs 4,073 crore for the 2017-2018 fiscal.

Also, in view of COVID-19, which has imposed a fiscal burden on Tamil Nadu in terms of scaling up the medicare infrastructure for treatment and improving the health of the people, the Centre should continue with the GST compensation currently being enforced, the government said.

This measure should continue so as to ensure the states do not suffer a setback on the fiscal front, D Jayakumar, Minister for Fisheries, Personnel and Administrative Reforms, who participated in the 41st meeting of the GST council on Thursday via video conference, demanded.

The meeting was headed by Union Finance Minister Nirmala Sitharaman. At present, Tamil Nadu is cutting back on other expenditure to carry out COVID-19 preventive measures and is unable to give up the state's financial resources.

"Tamil Nadu's fiscal burden has increased owing to the coronavirus pandemic and the crisis necessitated curtailment of other expenditures to cope with the present situation," Jayakumar said.

Further release of the state's financial resources could have a serious impact on the implementation of welfare schemes for the poor and down-trodden, he stressed and demanded that the states continue to receive GST compensation.

The Goods and Services (Compensation to States) Act, 2017 was enacted by the Central Government to compensate the loss of revenue to the states in order to implement the GST system. According to the law, the central government has paved the way for the states to be compensated for five years at a growth rate of 14 per cent with the financial year 2015-2016 as the base year.

The Centre is currently levying a cess in order to compensate states, he pointed out.

"The central government has the full responsibility to find other sources of revenue to augment the upper tax package in order to continue to provide compensation to the states." "If necessary, the Central government should come forward to ensure further legislation to extend the deadline for levying GST compensation surcharge to more than five years," Jayakumar said.

In addition, the Centre must provide loans or advances to the GST surcharge fund to provide GST compensation to the states.

This loan can be repaid, Jayakumar said and urged that the GST Council should make the above recommendation to the Central Government.

Phone A Friend..!

"Phone a friend," suggests Amitabh Bhachchan to the floundering person sitting opposite him in 'Kaun Banega Crorepati' and so often that friend is the desperately needed lifeline.

In joy or in sorrow, we need the company of friends. Yes sometimes for a while we need to be alone, but just awhile, and then we need to move across and meet those we love and cherish and allow them to share our lives.

A man who lost his wife to cancer found himself wanting to be alone. In time he dropped out of his worshipping community and curtailed all of the activities he and his wife had shared for so many years. He increasingly kept to himself. He quit socializing at work and returned straight home to an empty house. He turned down invitations from friends and co-workers. His leisure time was now spent watching television or working in his shop in the basement.

His contact with people dwindled until friends became alarmed that he might live out his life as a recluse. One came by to visit and to invite him over for supper the next evening. The two old friends sat in comfortable chairs by a warm fireplace. The visitor extended the dinner invitation and encouraged him to come. "You may need to allow others to share your pain."

The man responded that he figured he was better off without being around other people. After all, others only seemed to remind him of all he had lost. "And besides," he said, "it's just too difficult to get out anymore."

They sat in silence for a while, watching the wood burn in the fireplace. Then the visitor did an unusual thing. He took tongs from a rack by the fireplace, reached into the fire, pulled out a flaming ember and laid it down by itself on the hearth.

The men sat in silence watching the red-hot ember. It slowly lost its glow. Neither man looked away as the once-hot coal gradually transformed into a crusty, black lump. After some moments, the widower turned to his companion and said, "I get the message, my friend. I'll be over tomorrow evening."

We cannot survive in any healthy way by ourselves. The leaf needs the branch.

The branch needs the trunk.

The trunk needs the roots.

And the roots need the rest of the tree.

We are connected. And in that connection we find life and vitality.

So the next time you want to run and hide or burrow deep into a place to be all alone, remember we are not made to be that way. Like the flaming ember which died when other pieces could not help it burn, we will also burn ourselves out if we try to go it alone, especially when we go through a period of an intense emotional upheaval.

Then you need to, phone a friend..!
